The ADP Review

December 2020

Vol - 7 : Issue - 1

Words from the desk of the Principal

I warmly welcome you to the volume-7, issue-1 of the Anandaram Dhekiyal Phookan College (ADP College) newsletter of the year 2020. Here you will find the latest news about the College, its exceptional programs, students, faculty, and alumni.

Year 2019-20 was a year of COVID-19 and still the people of the country are facing challenges in works. Being associated with the students' communities, the academic people of the college have been doing so much to meet the needs of the students. Onlinewebinars, seminars etc. conducted by the Teachers of the college are highlighted in the news letter. Considering the needs of the students, we have increased the seat capacity of the college and presently our college has about 3000 students in UG/PG/Diploma courses. We acknowledge the time constraints and the many news sources that vie for your attention, so we offer a brief look at each story for your information.

The format of the newsletter is limited in the amount of in-depth information it can provide, we are trying to make every effort to describe our latest achievements. Any criticism, opinions, and encouragement will be highly appreciated by the editors of the Newsletter.

I wish every person will have a protected life foiling the threats from COVID-19 in the coming days.

With regards,

(Dr. Surajit Kumar Bhagowati)

INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL

A few words from IQAC Co-ordinator

It has been a great pleasure serving ADP College as a faculty member for about three decades, five years of it as the co-ordinator of IQAC. I have seen the college emerge as a leader in the arena of higher education in Assam over this period. I am fortunate to have been a steer-leader during this phase. It has been a journey from obscurantism to prominence. The faculty members have achieved excellence in numerous areas. They could face the challenge of COVID pandemic also very successfully and steered the students in their academic pursuits by using different ICTtools. It has been a pleasure guiding them in this journey.

I can take pride in the fact that we have built a team that delivers. The college has not confined itself in the academic pursuits only, but also achieved a leading position in the sphere of community development. The extension activities by the college has elevated the living condition among the people. Moreover we have ensured that ethical values are inculcated in our students so that a better society can be built in the long run. The code of conduct followed by our stakeholders are of the highest standards. I am sure this trend will be sustained in future.
